The traffic calming chicane on School Lane in Burscough

New traffic calming measure drives you mad, says motorist

Chicane is 'dangerous'

A COUPLE are calling for a 'dangerous' traffic calming island to be removed from a residential road in Burscough after their car hit it causing £5,000 worth of damage.

Dad of one Paul Thompson, 41, and his partner Jane, 48, say the structure is 'impossible to see' at certain times of the day.

TALL ORDER FOR BABY UNIT FUNDRAISERS!

by Danielle Thompson

...but mountain trek raises a staggering £20,000 for emergency incubator at Ormskirk Hospital

ONE HUNDRED charity fundraisers raised a remarkable £20,000 for Ormskirk Hospital's neo–nonatal unit – by tackling the highest mountain in Wales!

The walk, to help pay for an emergency incubator, was organised by fund–raising mum Stephanie Beqo, whose daughter was born nearly three months premature last year.

Stephanie, 29, and her husband, Emiliano, from Bebles Road, Aughton feared the worst when little Mia arrived 11 weeks early on June 18 last year weighing just 2lbs 11oz.

But thanks to the efforts of caring staff at the unit, the tiny baby thrived and was able to finally go home after six weeks of treatment.

In recognition of their life–saving work, Stephanie organised a trek up Mount Snowdon to raise a staggering £20,000 to help buy the vital piece of equipment. Continued inside

Help us fight proposed cuts to police service

Report by Danielle Thompson

Crime chief in plea to residents to back petition

POLICE and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw is calling on West Lancs residents to help fight proposed cuts to the force of up to £88m by signing an online petition and writing to their MP.

Earlier this month, the Champion revealed that Lancashire Constabulary could face huge cuts by 2020 on top of the £74m savings already made.

The force is expected to be one of the worst hit in the government's funding review next month, with an extra 13% of cuts (£24.8million), while the comprehensive spending review next month is expected to wipe another 25 to 40% (£41m to £64m) off the budgets in a double–whammy of cuts.

In the wake of the concerns, PCC Clive Grunshaw held a cross–party conference with West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper and the Force's Chief Constable last week to discuss the impending review of the funding formula for policing and its potential impact and have voiced their fears to Policing Minister Mike Penning.

He has also written to Home Secretary Theresa May calling for the changes to be put on hold while a robust and detailed analysis can be undertaken.

Almost 8,000 people have so far signed an online petition, 'Save Lancs Police' at change.org

PCC Grunshaw said: "We have been calling for more information about the formula since the first consultation was launched in July. Just two weeks ago we received this information and knew then that it would have a significant impact on Lancashire if the changes go ahead.

"Even before that time I was engaging with all our MPs and the Association of Police and Crime Commissioners with concerns about the process. The Chief Constable and I continue to work on our response to the latest consultation which is due in on Friday.

"In the meantime I would urge the people of Lancashire to get behind us and our campaign to stop the cuts. The cuts proposed are very real and will have a major impact on Lancashire Constabulary if they are introduced.

"Lancashire is being unfairly singled out – even though we have proved to be the best force in the country and named 'outstanding' for the way we have handled the cuts so far.

"The cuts proposed will change the way we police Lancashire forever – it's no good shouting after these changes come in and when you don't get a response to your call for help. If we want to keep Lancashire safe we all need to act now."

Peak achievement for fundraisers

Her family and friends, together with staff from the ward were joined by employees from local businesses The Fat Italian, Vanity Hair & Beauty, West Tower Country House, Town Green Brassiere and The Edge to take part in the challenge.

The full cost of an incubator is £40,000 but staff and supporters of the unit had already raised £25,000.

Steph Beqo told the Champion: "The weather was perfect for the climb, really beautiful and sunny although misty at the top.

"It was much tougher than most people anticipated but it made the day all the more of an achievement. There were lots of bruises, blisters and even a few tears but not one of our team gave up.

"I've been overwhelmed at people's encouragement, support and generosity – I feel very lucky to have so many people wanting and willing to help and privileged for the opportunity to, in a very small way, give something back and say thank you to the ward.

"I'll be forever grateful to everyone who took part in the climb or sponsored us, they have made a real difference to our hospital and I think they are all amazing."

"The incubator is now at the hospital and the team are using it."

Paul's photograph shows the late–afternoon sun behind the traffic calming sign

Traffic calming measure is a danger to drivers

The pair were driving from Jane's home in Skelmersdale to Burscough Wharf when she hit a traffic calming chicane on School Lane, causing extensive damage to the front passenger side of her black Seat Ibiza.

The chicane is made up of a 'build–out' placed on one side of the road and which allows only one line of traffic past it, a post and a sign showing drivers that traffic coming in the opposite direction has priority.

Now Paul, a prison worker, is calling for Lancashire County Council to remove the chicane and replace it with either a speed bump or a lighted bollard.

He said: "As we were driving towards the chicane, the late afternoon sunlight was shining underneath the priority sign, obscuring the post. My partner thought that the road ahead was clear – we both did – and she hit the post, causing extensive damage to the front of the car.

"I believe that the chicane is really dangerous as drivers won't see it when the light is shining behind the sign at different times of the day – and this could cause a very serious accident.

"It is going into winter and I am aware that the sunlight will not be as strong but it will still be setting at some point in the late afternoon in the same place. Does someone need to be seriously injured before this is dealt with?

"I am from Wigan and we had traffic calming chicanes in the town years ago – but they were replaced with speed bumps by our council after a number of accidents.

"It is even more random to just have one of the chicanes in Burscough as they are not widely used in West Lancs and drivers are not expecting to see them. It is really dangerous and needs to be removed."

Lancashire County Council declined to comment.

Save our golf club!

Report by Henry James

Members write to Champion saying they are 'totally fed–up' with state of course

A GROUP representing members of Beacon Park Golf Club have written a letter to The Champion saying they are 'totally fed up' with the state of the council–owned facility.

The group say they have grave concerns for the future of the venue and have blasted on–going work at the course saying it has put the future of the club at risk.

Angry members have petitioned the council asking them to hold a special meeting and present them with a 'Statement of Intent' for the course, which was developed in 1982 by renowned course architect Donald Steele.

The letter to the Champion stated: "I am writing to you (the Champion) on behalf of Beacon Park Golf Club members to bring to your attention the demise of our golfing facilities at Beacon Park.

"The management of the golf course was taken over by West Lancashire Community Leisure, part of the Serco Leisure Group from DCT Leisure in 2011 who left the golf facility in good order. At this time we had between 250–300 registered members, a thriving Junior Section, two full time coaching professionals, a golf shop, a profitable driving range, a practice area and a putting green.

"The picture I will paint today is very different and is linked to a complete lack of interest shown in developing the facility.

"The original plans agreed by West Lancs Council included course redevelopment, improvements to the driving range and a nine hole practice facility. This so called practice facility is nothing more than thousands of tonnes of unwanted waste.

Tipping

"We now have approximately 130 loyal and committed members who are totally fed up, the course is covered in seagulls attracted by the waste which is supposed to be inert and we have been told by local residents that the stench and noise from the landfill means they have to close their windows and doors.

"We have no junior section and not a single junior member because our practice facilities have been closed."

The letter continued: "Despite contradictory claims by Serco, we haven't had a golf shop for two years, no golf professional, no practice area, no putting green and we have been told they are planning to turn the driving range in to a bike track after they have dumped more waste there! Leaving us with no facilities whatsoever!

"Serco Leisure have told us that tipping is due to commence on the driving range in the next couple of weeks.

"If this is allowed to happen then Beacon Park will never survive long term as a golf facility for the people of Lancashire to utilise."

Previously, a borough council spokesman told the Champion in response to tipping claims at the course: "The new nine hole par three course at Beacon Park Golf course will be an exciting addition to the facilities at the golf course. Planning permission for the new nine hole par three course was granted in December 2011. Work is progressing and the re–profiling for the current works will be completed by the autumn 2015."

Play is expected on the new course in 2017.

Council responds to claims of members

A council spokesman responded to the letter: "The council and the course operators have met with members several times over the last two years and in recent weeks to discuss the issues, but a small number of members are refusing to accept information provided by the Council and course operators. They have continued pursuing this line about the course which is full of inaccuracies.

"The previous operators DCT Leisure could not sustain the annual losses from the golf course and terminated their lease arrangement early. This left the council facing the prospect that the course may have to close unless alternative arrangements could be put in place. West Lancashire Community Leisure Trust and the Trust operating partners Serco Leisure Operating Limited assisted the council by taking on the operation initially temporarily to keep the golf course open.

"The course and its facilities were not in a good condition when DCT left the golf course and no element of the course was making a profit."

Make sure your pet is safe on Bonfire Night

Report by Danielle Thompson

PET owners are urged to make sure their pet is safe on Bonfire Night

West Lancashire Borough Council has issued advice to owners to stop animals straying from their homes to find a safe place away from the loud noises... not just on November 5 but in the lead up to it as well.

They are advising owners to:

• Close windows and curtains and put on music, or the television, to mask the sounds of fireworks

• If your pet shows any sign of fear, try to ignore their behaviour unless there is imminent danger

• Do not fuss over or try to reassure your pet when they are frightened

• Never show anger if they appear frightened – this will only convince them that there is something to be afraid of

• Make sure they are kept in a secure and safe environment at all times, so that they cannot bolt and escape in reaction to a sudden noise. If you have had your pet micro–chipped/tattooed you will improve the chances of a safe return if they do escape. All dogs should have a collar and tag providing details of ownership

• Set a good example and ignore the fireworks' noise yourself

• Exercise your pet during daylight hours – never take them for a walk when fireworks are being let off

• If you know of another pet that is not scared by noises and gets on well with yours, then keeping the two together during the evenings may help your animal to realise there's no need to be afraid

Fireworks can frighten pets

Councillor Kevin Wright, portfolio holder for Community Safety, said: "Bonfire Night is a distressing time for animals, especially if fireworks are being set off over several evenings. Our tips aim to help pets and their owners to have a stress–free time."

If you lose your dog contact the Environmental Enforcement Team on 01695 577177.

• Enjoy November 5, say council. See story p24.

Council's joint MD structure scrapped

Gill Rowe to leave costing council £287,805

Kim Webber and Gill Rowe

THE joint managing director structure at West Lancashire Borough Council is to be scrapped after the council agreed the voluntary redundancy of one of their chiefs, Gill Rowe, in a move costing £287,805.

The decision was made at a meeting on October 21, to 'achieve savings' and to enable a new management structure to be put in place to deliver the new Council Plan 2015–18.

A saving of £103,507 per annum will be made, but Gill Rowe is set to receive a £99,575 redundancy package and the council will pay a £188,230 pension strain cost.

In the meantime, an interim management structure has been put in place pending a further report to council.

From February 1, 2016, the remaining MD, Kim Webber, will become Acting Chief Executive.

West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper commented: "Since the joint managing directors structure was introduced under the previous administration, many people including me, have had reservations as to the effectiveness of the structure.

"Given the financial pressures on local government with funding being slashed to the bone and the substantial reduction in council–run service over many years we need to have a rethink.

"The new administration now has an opportunity to really consider a new management structure that is fit for purpose and offers value for money for the council taxpayers of West Lancashire."

Councillor Leader, Ian Moran said: "I would like to place on record my thanks to Gill for her 27 years of dedicated service to this council. The council is under financial pressure, as are all authorities, and we will need to make an estimated £2.1m of savings over the next two years.

"The changes will enable the council to put in place a new management structure."

£30 annual charge for garden waste?

Report by Henry James

Council consider a range of options to make more savings and increase income

A PROPOSAL to introduce a £30 annual charge for the collection of garden waste is part of the borough council's policy options as it prepares to make savings, efficiencies and increases in income in a bid to balance its budget for 2016/17.

Over the last four years the council has had to make savings of around 30%, primarily as a result of reductions in the grant funding that it receives from the Government.

However the council continues to face significant financial challenges, like most councils in the country, and needs to continue to reduce spending. The council faces a further budget gap for 2016/17 of £1.26m.

The council has already identified savings totalling around £560,000 'through a range of measures including efficiencies and automation, and providing more services online.' This includes £200,000 of savings through an extension to the Council's Base Budget Review programme which looks to reduce expenditure budgets while maintaining service levels.

To meet the remaining budget gap, they have drawn up a package of options totalling around £700,000 a year. The next step will be to gather views from residents, community groups, organisations and businesses.

People and organisations will be able to give their views through the council website www.westlancs.gov.uk/yourviews.

A West Lancs 'Your Views' page on Facebook is also being launched: www.facebook.com/WLBCyourviews. Comments can also be submitted by letter or email.

The consultation will be launched today (Wednesday, October 28) and the closing date will be January 10, 2016. Final decisions will be made at Council in February 2016.

The main options on which views are sought include:

• Introducing a £30 annual charge for seasonal collection of garden waste. Householders could also choose to have an extra green bin emptied, for an additional annual cost of £25. This is expected to raise around £500,000.

• Reducing grants to parish councils, saving a total of up to £33,000.

• Rationalisation of dog waste and litter bins and move to dual waste bins. This will save around £28,000.

• Replacing the Mayor's Civic Dinner with a Charity Ball, to save £4,000, along with other specific savings on civic budgets totalling a further £6,000.

• Restructuring the building control service to save £42,000.

• Renegotiation of the shared services contract for revenues, benefits and ICT to save £42,000 initially.

Cllr Chris Wynn, cabinet member for finance, said: "We have put together this package with the aim of minimising the impact on residents.

"We have tried to maximise efficiency while protecting services, staff and jobs. I encourage local organisations and individual residents to visit the website, find out more and complete the surveys so that we can take their views into account before final decisions are made."

The Council is seeking views from individuals and organisations and is working with West Lancashire CVS to contact local voluntary and community groups, businesses, and other organisations to invite them to take part.

Any organisation can complete the survey and all residents can take part.

Police appeal after Aughton ram–raid

LANCASHIRE Police have released a CCTV image of a man they want to speak to in relation to a ram–raid at a newsagents in Aughton.

Officers were called to an address in Long Lane at around 3.20am on October 15 after a Land Rover was used to reverse into the front of the Aughton News store, before it was driven forwards into the same property.

Extensive damage was caused to the shop front allowing two people to gain access inside.

Two cash boxes were taken from a cash machine inside, but fortunately both had been emptied the night before by the shop owner. The pair left the scene in the same vehicle.

Anyone with information about the incident should contact Lancashire Police on 101 or contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Sites at risk across borough

by Danielle Thompson

SITES ACROSS West Lancashire have been highlighted as 'at risk' under a scheme which manages historic buildings and sites across England.

Historic England is a government organisation which champions England's heritage and gives expert advice. Their Heritage at Risk programme protects and manages the historic environment and aims to reduce the number of historic places and sites that are 'at risk' across England.

It identifies sites most at risk of being lost as a result of neglect, decay or inappropriate development each year, including places of worship, archaeological sites, registered parks and gardens, registered battlefields and protected shipwrecks.

For the first time, Historic England has compared the sites on the register to understand which types are most at risk – and has given sites a priority rating from A–F, with A classed buildings in the most urgent need of repair.

The report found that the Grade–II listed ruins of Halsall Rectory on Halsall Road were in the A category, most urgently in need of help. It is in a poor condition and suffering from structural movement, poor pointing and vegetation growth.

Progress has been made through a grant aided management agreement and the removal of trees but an on–going management strategy is needed to bring the site into good condition and remove long–term threats – and it has structural problems.

• The Water Tower in Ormskirk, which is Grade II listed, is listed as a priority rating C.

The tower, built between 1853–4, is not in use and is in poor condition.

An application for Planning Permission and Listed Building Consent for seven apartments was refused on grounds of privacy. The refusal was upheld at appeal and no further progress has been made on finding a solution for the site.

• The Grade–I listed St Cuthbert's Church in Halsall, which is in a poor condition, has been rated as a D–level priority. The 14th/15th Century sandstone church's spire apex, roofs and gutters have deteriorated and it now has temporary timber support. A repair grant aid for the first phase of work has been offered by the Heritage Lottery Fund under the Grants for Places of Worship scheme.

The Grade–II listed ruins of Halsall Rectory

• A late 16th Century Grade–II listed barn in a poor condition to the south–west of Martin Hall Farm on New Lane in Burscough has also been marked as a D–level priority. It has been granted planning permission and listed building consent for conversion to residential use – but work has not yet started on the site.

• The Grade–I listed 19th Century former country house Scarisbrick Hall, which is now in use as a school, dates back to between 1836–45 is currently described as being in a 'poor' condition but, supported by a Historic England grant, the current owners have completed urgent work to the roof of the main hall and further extensive repairs are ongoing, including work to repair the north range and bring it back into use. It has been marked as the lowest priority rating (F).

The report also found that Halsall medieval rectory, Rufford moated site and the moated site of Scarisbrick Hall were all declining, while the conservation areas of Ormskirk Town Centre and Ruff Lane were in a poor condition and deteriorating – but that the conservation area of Scarisbrick Park, although in a 'very bad' condition, was improving.

Headteacher took his own life, inquest told

A HEADTEACHER whose body was found at his school in Ormskirk took his own life, an inquest into his death has heard.

Popular headteacher John Rowlands, who ran Ormskirk CE Primary School in Greetby Hill, died in July, leaving behind his wife Krista and son, James.

He was also a talented cricketer and a member and coach at Ormskirk Cricket club.

The Preston Coroner ruled that Mr Rowlands had taken his own life.

Following Mr Rowlands death, Chair of governors at the school, Richard France, said: "Mr Rowlands was extremely popular with pupils, staff and parents and we will miss him greatly.

"Under Mr Rowlands' leadership the school strived to be a supportive and caring place for its pupils. That will continue to be the case as the whole school community comes to terms with its loss."

John Rowlands Code NA

An Ormskirk Cricket club spokesman said after the tragedy: "John was a highly–respected headmaster and a very popular, active member of Ormskirk CC.

"He was a junior team manager for several years and his enthusiasm for engaging the young children in sport was of paramount importance to him.

"Without doubt he helped hundreds of children, throughout the district, not only to enjoy cricket but to learn some very important life skills. John will be sadly missed by his many friends at the club and our very deepest sympathies go to his wife Krista and son James at this very difficult time."

Activity hub is launched

A NEW activity hub for the first English 'coast to coast canoe project' has been launched in Burscough.

The Canal and River Trust, which oversees 2,000 miles of waterways, including the Leeds and Liverpool Canal, held canoe and angling taster sessions and heritage walks to celebrate the Desmond Family Canoe Trail's Coast to Coast project last Sunday, October 25.

Funded by a £1.3 million grant from the Desmond Foundation, the 150–mile trail starts in Liverpool, follows Britain's longest canal, the Leeds & Liverpool, links into the Aire & Calder Navigation in Yorkshire and finally reaches the east coast at Goole.

The hub was launched with an activity day at Burscough Wharf.

Heritage evening

THE BURSCOUGH Heritage Group are holding a Lancashire–themed evening on Monday, November 9.

To celebrate Lancashire Day, on November 27, the group are hosting the event with Sid Calderbank, 'the mon for dialect and song in Lancashire' and a hotpot supper.

It will start at 7.30pm at the Blue Mallard restaurant at Burscough Wharf,

Tickets for the event are available from the Blue Mallard, Mike Allen Glass at the Old Stables on Mill Lane in Burscough or The Wool Boat on the canal.

Seeds sown for meadow project in town's park

by Frank Martin

A TEAM of young volunteers joined forces with West Lancs Council rangers and members of the Friends of Coronation Park to help with the Meadow Project at the Ormskirk park.

Management of the meadow of the park is very important to help stimulate growth for the following year. The team worked hard to clear the meadow of hay after the autumn cut so that next spring and summer it will look even better.

The team of volunteers were brought together through the National Citizens Service, a government–funded summer programme which brings together young people aged 15 to 17 from different backgrounds, encouraging them to get involved in their local communities, boosting their confidence and helping them to develop leadership, communications and team–working skills.

The volunteers – all from Ormskirk, Skelmersdale and surrounding areas – took part in a sponsored walk last month to raise money for the Friends of Coronation Park group.

Their tough and muddy 10km route started in Beacon Country Park and took in Ashurst Beacon, while they completed 30 fun challenges along the way, including picking up litter and giving balloons out to members of the public.

The sponsored walk was the first of a number of activity days for the volunteers which also included the Meadow Project in Coronation Park and a one–day campaign in their local town centre on an issue they care about.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "The young volunteers have done a great job working with the rangers and the Friends group and I am sure they enjoyed the tasks they carried out."

Now, thanks to the council's links with the Wildlife Trust, new wildflower seeds have been sown in the cleared meadow to ensure it will be full of beautiful blooms in the spring.

Chef killed in road accident was 'much loved' father of two

Report by Danielle Thompson

TRIBUTES have been paid to a "much loved" father of two who was killed in a road accident last week in Tarleton.

Stuart Anderson, aged 37, was hit by a silver Mercedes outside the Co–op store on Church Road in Tarleton just after midnight on Tuesday, October 20.

The chef, who was from Blackpool, suffered fatal injuries in the incident and died at the scene.

He leaves behind two children aged nine and 13.

His family said: "Stuart was a much loved father of two.

"He had recently moved from Blackpool to Tarleton to progress his career as a chef.

"The family would like to thank the local community for their support at this difficult time and have requested that they are allowed time to grieve."

Police Sergeant Adam Dawson of the Roads Policing Department thanked the public for their response to the ongoing appeal for information regarding the collision.

Anyone with information regarding the collision is urged to contact the enquiry team on 101 quoting incident number 0009 of October 20.

• Pictured right is the scene of the fatal accident.

Stuart Anderson.

Scheme praised for championing needs of older people

by Henry James

A SCHEME which raises the profile of older people's needs across the county has been praised at a meeting of 'older people's champions.'

Council champions from across the region, including Skelmersdale County Councillor Terry Aldridge – headed to County Hall in Preston for the AGM of the Older People's Champions Network in the North West.

The network looked at and discussed a range of different issues that involve and affect older people.

The Older People's Champions Network in the North West has 30 members from councils across the region. It was created and is managed by David Halpin from Ageconsulting, a consultancy based in Tarleton.

Ian Williamson–Owens, the North West manager of The Silver Line – the charity started by Esther Rantzen – explained how their free and confidential helpline benefits older people by providing them with advice and support.

Their service can particularly benefit those older people who live on their own, who can suffer from loneliness. More than half of all 75 year–olds in the UK now live on their own.

Councillor Brindle said: "We're pleased that Lancashire has hosted this important regional network here, which looks at many of the issues affecting older people and helps to influence government policy.

County Cllr Terry Aldridge – the county council's champion for older people, with County Cllr Margaret Brindle, chairman of the county council

"There's a lot of good work going on across the North West, which allows the Older People's Champions Network to share examples of the help and advice they can offer to older people across the region. We're pleased that we could share some of the good work right here in Lancashire."

The role of the champion for older people is to work with the council leader and other senior representatives of the council to encourage active, independent and healthy lives for older people, and raise the profile of older people's needs across the county.

Tired of negative Uni comments

IN response to P. Reeves' letter (Champion, October 14) can I just say I am beginning to tire of the consistently negative comments towards the award–winning university that is Edge Hill and its students.

With regards to the parking issue, I can sympathise with you, however, the university has not long completed a huge extension to the existing car park, but due to its increasing popularity it has quickly become too small.

Maybe the answer here would be to encourage a car share policy in which participants are rewarded somehow?

However, what angers me is your attitude towards the university. The lecturers and the management are in no way responsible for the behaviour of the students away from the campus and to suggest otherwise is ridiculous.

What yourself and others ALWAYS fail to mention is the huge boost to the local economy these students bring. Local stores must benefit hugely from these students during term time and the town is a better place for it. This is without mentioning both Liverpool's and Preston's economy too.

The town of Ormskirk is evolving, not into a 'students playground', but into a place that people should be proud to say the university is sited in. The students of today are tomorrow's future, so to tar them all with the same brush is something you should be ashamed of.

There is a bed of hard–working, polite and courteous students residing in this town and more of them than you care to admit to.

There is a simple answer if you no longer like living here – move. The university is here to stay and I for one couldn't be happier.

Obsession with footpath parking

I AGREE with other letters about footpath parking. It has become an obsession with a lot of thoughtless people.

If they had any blind or disabled people in their household, they might think twice.

It is exceptionally dangerous for prams or wheelchairs, disabled and blind people to pass when cars are a foot away from a garden wall and two side wheels in the gutter.

I now intend to photograph these people's cars and forward them to the police and the council highways dept. They cannot read your newspaper or they couldn't care less because cars are left for days blocking footpaths when there is room on their drive.

The Highway Code is a book these people need to read because they might have these problems one day.

This inconsiderate parking needs to be stopped now.

Goodbye my lovely Cassie

CHAMPION reader, Suzanne Davis Campbell, has sent us a poem her son wrote following the death of his dog, Cassie. Suzanne said: "I have heard too many bad dog stories in recent weeks and I thought it would be nice to publish a good dog tale for a change.

"My son wrote a poem after having to put his favourite dog to sleep, which has broke his heart, but by writing this poem it has helped him cope with his grief.

"After showing it to a group I attend, everyone said it should be heard by all dog or pet lovers. Cassie was loved by anyone who ever met her."

An abridged version of Adam's poem is printed below.

Dear Cassie,

Little Cassie you were my best friend
I can't believe that it's come to an end
16 years together every night and day
I guess I thought you would always stay

You kept me company every day and night
In the mornings you were my very first sight
Out of bed to sort out your feed
Then watch you get excited at the rattle of the lead

For miles every day we would walk
You'd tell some stories if only you could talk
You were my companion this is so true
Got me out of the house when there wasn't much to do

I hated leaving you when I had to work
I'd come home and you'd go berserk
Hours on your own and you hadn't even messed
Cassie girl you were the best

Such a zest for life you loved to have fun
When you wanted you could really run
Down at the coast the car tyre you'd chase
Lots of excitement on that beautiful face

You'd run up the stairs and jump on the bed
Strong and fit it had to be said
In 2013 I noticed your back leg twitch
I'd really hoped it was only a glitch

As time went on the leg got worse
No longer could you manage the stairs
It broke my heart to see you this way
My beautiful girl only able to lay

In the end your legs could only sag
Even though your tail would still wag
I made a tough decision to end your pain
Knowing full well I couldn't see you again

I'll miss you Cassie that is so true
I'm completely lost without you,
The truest friend I ever had
The time we spent together made me so glad

I hope what people say is true
That in years to come I'll be with you
My sweet little girl I hope you can wait
To join with me at the gate

Goodbye my lovely girl.

Police budget drastically cut

MAY I refer to two letters published in the October 14 edition of the Ormskirk Champion written in connection with policing in Ormskirk town centre and traffic problem in Cottage Lane.

Do the correspondents not realise that the policing budget for Lancashire has been drastically cut over the past five–and–a–half years? Staff members have been severely reduced, and whereas once officers were constantly on patrol in the town centre and could nip in the bud any potential problems, they are now so thinly spread that they can only be reactive rather that proactive.

With regard to traffic problems on Cottage Lane I was delighted to see so many residents at the recent Police and the Community Together (PACT) meeting. PACT meetings have been held for over 10 years with an attendance of between two and 10 residents. Perhaps if the 70 newcomers had taken an interest earlier to voice their opinions we would now be much further down the line to having our problems solved!

Lancashire County Council's budget has also been slashed and its priorities may not always include Ormskirk.

I hope the 70 newcomers continue to attend meetings then perhaps their many voices will lead to the much–needed improvements.

Steve Kelly, (by email)

Anger at pool speculation

I READ with a sense of real anger that the council was considering closing Park Pool, as my association – The West Lancs Sports and Social Club – goes back to when the pool was built.

If there are no plans to close the pool, why did the possibility of it appear in a council report?

I wrote to the council as the foundations were being laid, to ask for allotted time for the disabled and their immediate families to use Park Pool. On the open day I was invited and met a social worker whose role was to start disabled clubs in different areas in Lancashire. On that evening we were asked by the pool manager what hours and days would we like and we chose Friday evening from 8 to 10pm.

The club formally started on January 17, 1975 and I am still going as secretary so you can understand my upset, this club is very personal to me.

The pool gives us family time, therapeutic and social values and would be sadly missed.

Marion Barrow, (by email)

• Editor's note: The closure or replacement of Park Pool by 2020 was one of the possible options included in the council's Draft Leisure Strategy 2015–2025. The Council Leader has, since the report was made public, reassured residents that the authority has 'no intention' of closing it.

• IF you've got a point of view about a topic of local or national interest, we want to hear from you.

Bake Off challenge raises funds for wellbeing centre

by Danielle Thompson

MAYOR of West Lancashire, Councillor Nikki Hennessy, really enjoyed her visit to Ormskirk Wellbeing Centre recently – to judge the centre's bake off challenge and enjoy lots of yummy cakes!

Age UK resource centre manager, Gary Heron organised the contest in the style of TV's Great British Bake Off to raise funds for and awareness of the charity which cares for older people across West Lancs.

Staff and users of the service baked 50 cakes, which were judged by Cllr. Hennessy at the Wellbeing Centre in Moorgate.

The mayor and her consort, Jacob, were joined by fellow judges Gary and staff members and users of the Brothers of Charity organisation which provides staff with additional needs to work in the kitchen at the Moorgate Centre to cater for a range of events from lunches to special occasions.

Gary said: "Head office suggested that we held a bake–off and that the staff would bake the cakes but the service users really rallied around and got behind us baking many cakes – we ended up with 50! Councillor Nikki Hennessy was very professional and judged very carefully.

"We were joined by judges Daniel, staff at Brothers of Charity and assistants Rachel and James, who work with the Brothers of Charity.

"Many new faces came to the event which was brilliant to see. We are trying to get the centre more well known as it has activities seven days a week, including lunches, card games at night such as bridge and poker, and line–dancing on Mondays and Saturdays. We're hoping that more people will use the centre in the future."

The bake–off raised around £65.

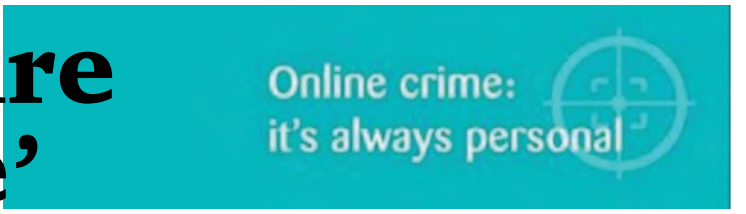
Residents warned ‘beware scam invoice from police’



Police issue scam email warning

by Henry James

POLICE are warning people to be aware of a scam email claiming to be from Lancashire Constabulary and asking people to pay an invoice that is attached to the email.

Many residents have received the email that appears to have been sent from a legitimate Lancashire Constabulary email address.

The email asks the recipient to pay an invoice attached to the email. However, police in Lancashire are telling people not to pay up: “If you have received it you must not open it. Instead delete it from your email system.

“If you have opened the attachment and ‘enabled macros’ it is very likely all your personal data will be breached. You must change all your passwords for personal accounts, including your bank accounts. This email has not been sent from Lancashire Constabulary. A third party supplier to the Constabulary has had their data breached, as a result of the breach this Lancashire Constabulary email address has been used to generate spam.”

There is now an investigation underway to determine the source of the attack, but the police want to reassure people that the Constabulary’s systems have not been breached or compromised in any way and if they have shared information with them it is safe.

The police advised: “If you have opened the attachment please ensure you change your passwords for all your bank, email and online shopping accounts.”

A refreshing tale of good deeds

IN a world where most people seem to be getting more selfish, it is refreshing when in the course of only two days you find people prepared not only to be honest, but prepared to put themselves out to help another.

The first concerned me. I had taken dogs Tina and Cinders out for their walk rather late.

Our steps took me onto the canal towpath, and although never a Boy Scout I do try to be prepared – so I had taken my trusty LCD torch to light my way (and find any dog poo that they might leave).

I was wearing my body warmer and put the torch in the top zip–up pocket wherein I habitually keep my travel pass – where it is safe, and cannot accidentally fall out.

And yes, you've guessed. As I came onto the canal path I fished in this pocket with a gloved hand to retrieve the torch, totally unaware that the travel pass on which I heavily rely had come out with it.

The next morning I decided to nip into Ormskirk to do some shopping and as the bus approached I unzipped the pocket – and found it empty.

A frantic search back home yielded nothing – and it was then I remembered putting the torch in the pass's pocket and realise exactly what must have occurred.

A hurried trot back to the canal (where I was certain I knew within a few feet where I must have dropped it) proved negative.

So I walked home, wondering exactly how one gets a replacement (which costs £10 I think), and realising how much it would cost me in bus and train fares while waiting for it to materialise.

Only then did it dawn that the plastic wallet also carried some vital numbers without which my life would be even more complicated.

And I had just put my hand on the phone, thinking to contact Merseytravel at least to start the recovery ball rolling, when there was a knock on the front door.

On the step was a young man, and in his hand was my lost travel pass.

Apparently his mother had found it on the canal bank when she had taken their dog for a walk. Now this would have been good, even if she had simply handed it over to a bus driver.

But the Gods of fortune were smiling indeed on me. They live quite close to me, and mum remembered my brother and I passing their home while out walking the dogs.

I don't think I have ever felt more relieved in my life, and I want to put on record my heart–felt thanks to both mother and son.

Then, just a day later, I was aboard the bus to Southport and reading a book as usual, when it became borne in on me that it had remained stationary at the Coach and Horses bus stop for a rather long time.

I glanced up to see a student in earnest conversation with the driver – and although I couldn't hear what he was saying, the driver replied "Yes, OK, but hurry up."

The lad came back down the bus, picked up a back–pack, got off and dodging heavy traffic went into a shop opposite. Within seconds he reappeared, sans back–pack, got back onto the bus and regained his seat.

He had seen a passenger get off the bus who had left their pack behind and saw then enter the shop. He was asking the driver if he would wait while he reunited owner and back–pack.

So full marks to him too, and brownie points too to the bus driver who agreed to help.

Search is on for Shared Lives carers scheme

Report By Henry James

FOLLOWING on from Shared Lives Week (October 17–25), the county council is looking for carers who could make a difference to the lives of people who need support or have a disability.

The Shared Lives concept is similar to foster care for adults. Carers may need to support people with aspects of their lives such as personal care, eating healthily and taking medication.

The idea is that people who are being supported are able to share in family and community life by living in the carer's own home.

The service is looking to expand the 274 active Shared Lives carers across the county who already support 208 people in long–term placements.

"Matching" the carer and the person needing support is at the heart of the Shared Lives service and is what makes it so special and different from many other forms of care and support – the strength and depths of the relationships that are developed.

County Councillor Tony Martin, cabinet member for adult and community services, said: "People who have become Shared Lives carers find it very rewarding.

"Our carers come from all types of backgrounds. If you have plenty of patience, flexibility, dedication, commitment and a spare room for the person you support to live in, you can become a Shared Lives carer.

"You can be a carer whether you rent or own your own home and you don't need to have any formal qualifications. If you are suitable, you'll be given all the training and support you need by our Shared Lives team.

Support

"People you support could come from any background and of course everyone is different. Some people in Shared Lives will require support and guidance whilst others will require more direct support with daily tasks such as cooking, laundry and handling money. Some people may need support washing and dressing too. People may also need support when visiting their local community – shops, libraries and cinemas.

"What is important is making a match between the person needing support and the Shared Lives carer. Our Shared Lives team works hard to identify areas like shared interests, pets, hobbies and places that will help build a bond and rapport.

"Research has shown that carers feel very positive and get a great deal of enjoyment and satisfaction about the work they do."

"They also get a monthly financial allowance, based on the needs of the person they are caring for."

Lancashire supports 9% of the total number of adults with learning disabilities receiving support from Shared Lives across the country.

Shared Lives supports people who may have a physical or learning disability, be an older person, recovering from substance misuse, have mental health issues or dementia, or who is not able to live on their own or with their family.

MP meets with divers ahead of Mexico trip

WEST Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper met up with young divers ahead of their training trip in Mexico.

She met members of the Diving4Fun club and their coach Carlos Ferra as they were put through their paces at their weekly training session at Nye Bevan swimming pool.

Diving4Fun offers competitive and recreational diving training for those aged five and upwards.

Besides the pool training the club also provides dry land training on the trampolines at Glenburn Sports College.

Club members aged eight to 15 years old jetted off to a Mexico training camp on Friday, October 23. Code Jalisco in Guadalajara offers the young aspiring Olympians access to Olympic standard training facilities and world class training alongside Olympic medallists and world champion divers.

Rosie Cooper said: "It was great to watch from poolside this ever growing group of young divers put through their paces. To think that one day in the near future a member of this club could be on diving board competing at an Olympic Games. I'm sure that the children will have an amazing experience in Mexico learning alongside some of the best divers and coaches in the world."

Aughton choir sing for their church spire!

By Danielle Thompson

THE AUGHTON Male Voice Choir are holding a fundraising concert at St Cuthbert's Church in Halsall this Friday (October 30).

Based at Aughton Village Hall on Winifred Lane, the choir is a voluntary organisation, registered with the Charity Commission, and is also active in supporting other charities, performing around a dozen public and private concerts every year.

Proceeds from the concert will go towards ongoing fund–raising for the historic church's spire.

The building, parts of which date back to the 14th century, was forced to close temporarily in December 2013 when a health and safety inspection revealed that the spire was unsteady and was moving in strong winds.

The church committee is currently fund–raising to reach a £25,000 target needed to secure the spire.

Singer Tony Boyson said: "The larger more dynamic choir will be accompanied by two soloists and will be performing a much lighter programme designed for greater appeal to all age groups. Pieces will include songs from musicals, popular music sung by both British and American stars as well as music performed by famous popular groups. It should be a very enjoyable concert for all."

The concert will start at 7pm.

Entry costs £7.50 and this includes refreshments.

Uni Prof joins EU diplomacy project

A SPORTS law expert from Edge Hill has been chosen to join a European Union project on sports diplomacy.

Professor Richard Parrish, director of the Centre for Sports Law Research at the Ormskirk university, is the only British member of the 15–strong group chaired by former Hungarian president, Pál Schmitt.

The group was established with the aim of assessing the value of sport in EU external policies, and in public diplomacy in particular.

Members of the group include Olympic athletes, academics and politicians.

Professor Parrish said: "I was delighted to be selected as one of 15 members of the EU high–level group on Sports Diplomacy. My research explores the relationship between sport and the EU so is directly relevant to the issues we will be exploring."

The findings will be published in 2016.

Council celebrate thirty years of making friends

By Henry James

TO mark 30 years of bringing company and support to lonely and vulnerable residents, the county council's volunteer befriending service is inviting volunteers from the past, present and future to celebrate with them.

Since 1985, befriending service volunteers have been a friendly face for people needing company to help them feel valued and enjoy their time.

For an hour or two a week, volunteers might have a cup of tea and a chat at someone's home, help motivate and engage them with hobbies, or give them the confidence to get out of the house and become involved with their local community.

Residents are invited to an event at the Skelmersdale Library from 10am to 2pm on Wednesday, November 18.

The role of the volunteers is summed up in some feedback about volunteer John, who has been helping an older gentleman settle into a new area. Ill health had forced the gentleman to relocate to be close to family and he was struggling with the adjustment, but John has helped him find independence and provided his family with a break from their caring role.

The gentleman's son said: "John is absolutely brilliant, I'm so, so happy about him. He does so well for Dad, he brightens Dad's day. They're very good friends."

The name of the service has evolved over time, past volunteers might know it as 'the sitting service', or the 'volunteer service'. But the focus on people remains the same as the befriending service looks to the future.

County Councillor Tony Martin, cabinet member for adult and community services said: "Our volunteers have taken their experiences with them to support other local organisations or start new careers; and have themselves benefited by developing skills, confidence, and training. Most importantly, they have made a friend and helped to make someone's life better at a difficult time.

"We want to catch up with as many of our past and present volunteers as possible, find out how they have been getting on, and say a hugely deserved thank you. We also welcome anyone who is interested in volunteering to come along and find out more. The events will be very informal, just turn up, enjoy biscuits and brews, and help us to celebrate!"

For further information please call 01257 516035, email lccvolunteering@lancashire.gov.uk or visit www.lancashire.gov.uk/volunteer

Funding boost for youth action group

SAY team thank local councillors for their support

SKELMERSDALE Action For Youth (SAY) has just received funding from four local County Councillors to run activities for young people.

The finances came from County Councillors Terry Aldridge, John Fillis, Julie Gibson, and Nikki Hennessy.

SAY will be running different sessions through its Let's Get Activity programme, which will include canoeing courses. They will also be running events to allow ex–servicemen and youngsters to mix, including a trip to the National Memorial Arboretum in Staffordshire. They are planning on holding a dinner for ex–servicemen and women and a Crazy Cart Project as well.

Organisers at SAY are looking for young people and ex–servicemen to take part in the activities over the next few months.

Meanwhile, SAY has also received funding from Lancashire Partnership for Sports to run a 26 week programme, which includes a Street Dance project. This will be run in partnership with Wigan Community Trust, who will be holding their Kicker Project on a Wednesday evening from 6pm to 8pm.

All sessions are free and young people have to be between the ages of seven and 16. SAY will be running Cardiff Skating on a Friday evening from 5pm to 6pm at The Evermoor Hub too.

Alan Lewis from SAY said: "We would like to thank all four county councillors for their support. We would also like to thank Lancashire Partnership for Sport and Lancashire Police Early Action Team and Insp June Chessell for her help. Finally, thank you to Phil Newby for his hard work and dedication, working hard to reach young people."

Huge cost of fly tipping revealed

Report By Henry James

Nearly £60,000 is spent getting rid of dumped waste

LATEST figures show there were 930 fly–tipping incidents in West Lancashire in 2014–15 costing the borough council £59,605.

The Country Land Association has highlighted the statistics and had added that fly–tipping is causing "considerable concern" to landowners and farmers.

The total number of fly–tipping incidents in England has risen by almost 50,000 to 900,000 in the past year and over the last two years by almost 200,000 according to latest figures from Defra.

In Lancashire, there were in excess of 26,000 fly–tipping incidents in 2014/15, costing local councils more than £1.6 million to clear up.

And according to the CLA, this is only a fraction of the overall cost of clearing up after fly–tippers as these figures do not include any incidents on private land, which farmers and landowners are legally obliged to clear and pay for themselves.

The CLA is now calling for local authorities to be more proactive when it comes to dealing with the fly–tipping problem.

CLA North regional director Dorothy Fairburn said: "Councils have new powers to seize vehicles suspected of being involved in fly tipping and yet none has been seized throughout the whole of Lancashire in the past 12 months.

"It might seem like a victimless act, but throwing rubbish from a car window or dumping it on a verge could lead to a major problem for a farmer and the food they grow or the animals they care for."

Last year the CLA welcomed new guidelines from the Sentencing Council, which said it wanted magistrates to make more use of the highest levels of fines for people caught fly–tipping. The CLA is also lobbying government to create a new ticketing scheme that would enable landowners to take fly–tipped rubbish to their local tip free of charge.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Paul a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Bonfire night safety warning

ENJOY yourself on Bonfire Night – but stay safe!

That's the message from West Lancs Council and its partners as the borough prepares for November 5.

Along with the police and the fire service, the council has drawn up an action plan aimed at enabling residents to enjoy the night without any problems of nuisance or dangerous behaviour.

The three partners have worked together over the last 12 years and have massively reduced the number of unauthorised bonfires.

Cleansing operations have been speeded up, so any flammable rubbish has been cleared away quickly. The partners are aiming to cut the number of problems even further, and are advising residents to take extra care of bins, boxes and bags, and secure them where possible so others can't pull them out and start fires with the waste material.

Bin collection days in Skelmersdale are Thursday and Friday, so residents should avoid presenting their bins before their collection day to stop them from being misused.

The partners are also keen to ensure that waste is not fly–tipped in the run up to Bonfire Night.

In 2013 the council issued two formal cautions in this regard. Officers will be looking out for anyone using Bonfire Night as an excuse to dump waste and will not hesitate to take appropriate action. The maximum fine for fly–tipping materials is £50,000.

In Skelmersdale, bonfires will only be allowed at eight specially designated sites owned by the council. Bonfires can be built and lit between 4.30pm and midnight on Thursday, November 5.

For advice call the fire stations at Ormskirk on 01695 572223 or Skelmersdale on 01695 723853.

Coast activity hub launches

Burscough Wharf welcomes brand new coast project

By Danielle Thompson

A NEW activity hub for the first English coast to coast canoe project has been launched in Burscough

The Canal & River Trust, which oversees 2,000 miles of waterways, including the Leeds & Liverpool Canal, will be hosting canoe and angling taster sessions and heritage walks to celebrate the Desmond Family Canoe Trail's Coast to Coast project.

Funded by a £1.3 million grant from the Desmond Foundation, the 150–mile trail starts in Liverpool, follows Britain's longest canal, the Leeds & Liverpool, links into the Aire & Calder Navigation in Yorkshire and finally reaches the east coast at Goole.

The hub was launched with a special activity day featuring canoe and angling beginner sessions which took place at the Leeds–Liverpool canalside at Burscough Wharf.

Budding anglers can also learn new skills from 10am to noon and from 1 to 3pm at the Grove Youth Club on Burscough Wharf, on Thursday, October 29.

Coast to Coast project manager, Greg Brookes, said: "These events offer a fantastic opportunity to try a new activity or find out about the canal heritage and wildlife. All the activities are free and you can just turn up and sign up on the day.

"The new Burscough Wharf activity hub will continue as part of The Desmond Family Canoe Trail project. These events are not just a one–off and in future the centres will be hosting free canoeing sessions and other activities. We would like everyone to come along and see what's on offer."

Emma, Theo and Lee Graham

Couple donate £10,000 to unit

A PAIR of charity champions have raised just short of £10,000 for Ormskirk Neonatal Unit.

Parents, Emma and Lee Graham organised a number of fundraising events – most recently a charity ball, which raised nearly £5,000.

The campaign was launched as a way of Emma and Lee saying thank you to all of the staff at the unit who helped save their son's life.

Theo Graham was born 10 weeks premature, weighing just 2lb 8oz, but due to the dedication of the unit's health staff, Theo recently celebrated his third birthday.

Emma said: "I keep crying when I think about what was raised at the ball.

"It was an absolutely fantastic night and it was well worth all the stress. We had table games, a raffle, an auction and a sealed bid auction.

"Fantastic food was provided by The Lunch Hour, Formby and guests were entertained by local bank Captains of Industry.

"My target was to raise £3,000 from the ball and £5,000 for the whole year. We have managed to raise just under £10,000 up to now in 2015 with one event in November still to go.

"We had so much demand for the ball that I am seriously considering doing it again next year."

The charity ball was held on Friday, October 16, in the Gild Hall, Formby, and raised £4,830.

The money raised will go towards the cost of providing a transport incubator for the unit, which is expected to cost around £40,000.

Emma added: "I would really like to thank everyone who came and supported us. All our fantastic helpers who greeted out guests, sold raffle tickets and generally kept the night running smoothly, and to all the fantastic businesses for donating raffle and auction prizes."

Karen Wareing, the unit manager at the Ormskirk Neonatal Unit, said: "We are absolutely delighted and so grateful for all the money she has managed to raise for us this year. It is all going towards a new transport incubator.

"We are just so pleased with all the hard work she has done and all the people who have helped, and donated money and supported her."

The last event of the year is a Ladies Christmas Shopping Evening on on November 27, at St Jerome's Social Club, Formby. Advanced tickets are still available priced at £2 per person or £3 on the door.

For more information contact Emma on 07979062082.

Number's up for lottery scam

by Danielle Thompson

A SCAM involving a letter claiming to be from a national lottery organisation, has prompted a warning to residents.

Retired joiner Thomas Niven from Parbold received a letter telling him that he had won £825,000 on the People's Postcode Lottery, which raises funds for and awareness of good causes.

But the scam is not from the genuine charity and the counterfeit letter is signed by 'President Baron Wheels' informing the 'winner' that they have won £825,000 out of three million European entrants in an international draw held in Spain.

The letter urged Mr Niven to call a London–based number and pay a £1,500 'processing fee' to gain access to his winnings.

Thomas, 66, said: "I hope nobody falls for this awful scam, it seems very convincing and it looks fairly legitimate with different codes in it that look like an official reference number and telephone numbers to call.

"The only thing that will happen to the so–called winner is that they will be ripped–off to the tune of £1,500 – and I want West Lancs residents to warn their friends, families and neighbours – especially anyone vulnerable – who could lose their savings to this scam."

A spokesman for Action Fraud, the national fraud reporting centre, said: "Lottery, sweepstake or prize draw fraud happens after fraudsters contact you to tell you you've won a large sum of money in an international lottery, sweepstake or other prize draw.

"So that you can process the payment of your winnings, it asks you to contact someone who claims to be an official at the lottery company. Either the lottery doesn't exist or you've been contacted by fraudsters misusing the name of a genuine lottery but you can be sure there is no prize money for you to win.

"If you respond to the fraudster, you'll be asked to supply personal information and copies of official documents, such as your passport, as proof of identity. The fraudsters can then use this information to steal your identity."

Elm Tree Community Primary School in Skelmersdale is the latest winner of a supermarket's community initiative.

Elm Tree win shopper scheme

ELM Tree Community Primary School in Skelmersdale is the latest winner of a supermarket's community initiative.

Representatives from the Tanhouse School were presented with a cheque for £200 as part of Asda's Chosen By You Given by Us scheme which gives local charities and organisations the chance to be nominated by the public to receive a donation from their local store.

Every time a customer shops they are given a token and have to decide which organisation to support. After two months, the charity with the most tokens receives a grant of £200 with runners–up receiving £50 each.

West Lancashire Community High School in Skelmersdale and Kingsbury Primary School in Skelmersdale were joint runners–up and each received £50.

Helen Broady from Asda Skelmersdale said: "This was the first time we have helped Elm Tree Community Primary, so we were pleased they were winners."

The campaign is currently being run with Tanhouse Community Centre, Chat and Craft at Quarry Bank and Empower women's group at Up Holland library. The winner will be picked at the end of two months.

Nominations are open to charities and school and community projects. Anyone wishing to be included in the scheme can email communityskelmersdale@asda.co.uk.

‘Vulnerable’ residents urged to take up flu jab

By Danielle Thompson

‘VULNERABLE’ people in West Lancashire are being urged to make sure they get a flu jab to help them stay healthy over the winter months.

Health chiefs at Lancashire County Council are advising people to get vaccinated and are also offering advice to help people to stay well – and out of hospital.

In particular they are targeting people with long–term health conditions, the over–65s, pregnant women and parents of children under seven.

County Councillor Azhar Ali, Lancashire’s cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: said: “By preparing for winter, you can reduce your chances of getting ill.

“Flu can make you seriously ill and can be fatal in some cases and certain groups are much more likely to catch flu during the winter. We’d particularly like to see an increase in the number of pregnant woman and children age two to four who get a flu jab.

“It’s now quicker and easier than ever, with jabs available at your local GP or chemist. If you’re entitled to a free flu jab, you should get a vaccination before winter sets in and the chance of getting flu increases.”

Lancs County Council want residents to apply for the flu jab Code NA

More than 75% of over–65s in Lancashire received a flu jab last year, compared to the national average of almost 73%. And just over 53% of people under–65 in ‘at risk’ groups in Lancashire were vaccinated last year compared to an average of just over 50% for England.

Councillor Ali added: “It’s important to think ahead, before you start to feel unwell. This campaign raises awareness of what people can do to help themselves to stay well, to help everyone this winter. Even if you had a flu jab last winter, you’ll need to get another one this year, so that it is updated to protect you against the latest flu strains.”

For more information about flu vaccinations, contact your GP or local chemist.

Business owners urged to attend crime conference

POLICE and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw is urging West Lancashire business owners to attend a crime conference on November 10.

The 'Protect Your Business in Lancashire' conference aims to provide business people with the latest information and practical advice for their businesses, their employees and their property.

The event, which will take place in Leyland, has been organised with partners from the county's Chambers of Commerce, Lancashire Partnership against Crime and the Federation of Small Businesses.

Topics covered will include cyber crime, data protection, theft and fraud – and representatives from Lancashire Constabulary will be in attendance to give crime prevention advice.

Mr Grunshaw said: "Lancashire has a thriving business community and it is important to me to help keep these businesses safe.

"This conference will give business owners all the information they need to protect their businesses – there will be specialist advice relevant to the needs of each business."

The free event will run from 9am to 1.15pm at the Best Western Leyland Hotel. Tickets must be booked in advance at www.lancashire–pcc.gov.uk/protectyourbusiness

WIN! Tickets to Britain's ultimate fashion festival

THE Clothes Show, in association with Alcatel Onetouch, returns to the NEC Birmingham from December 4–8.

And the Champion can offer eight lucky readers and their guests the chance to attend the year's most prestigious fashion event, absolutely free!

With over 350 leading fashion and beauty brands, non–stop catwalk shows, makeovers, manicures, beauty demonstrations and style advice, the show will offer an all–new fashion experience.

Whether you're looking to update your wardrobe, fuel inspiration for a career in fashion, or meet your favourite celebrities, prepare to immerse yourself in the world's largest fashion festival.

Visitors can take a stroll down The Clothes Show's, new Boutique Boulevard, where they will be able to shop in pop up stores from the likes of Sugarhill Boutique, Playful Promises, Mink Pink, Wolf & Whistle, Little Mistress, Girls On Film, Prey of London and House of CB.

Style savvy shoppers can mix high–street buys with the most sought–after labels in the Designer Outlet. New to the show, Pringle, Mawi, MuuBaa and Bolongaro Trevor will sit alongside Gushlow & Cole to offer must–have brands with a discounted designer price tag.

Adding to the fashion–filled spectacular will be several stages. The Image Catwalk, presented by fashion expert Antonia O'Brien, will show the latest graduate and emerging designer collections while Let Us Find It will be hosting a scene, bringing the latest collections from a range of top high street brands.

Fashion journalist and industry favourite, Hilary Alexander OBE, will be offering exclusive trend presentations and interviews from leading designers on the Olympus PEN Style Studio. Joining Hilary will be presenter and model Lilah Parsons who will host the stage across the five days.

For more information, please visit www.clothesshow.com

To be in with a chance of winning one of eight free pairs of tickets, simply answer the following question and send your entry to: Clothes Show Competition, The Champiom, 166 Lord Street, Southport, PR9 0QA. Please include your name, address and a daytime telephone number.

Q. Where is the Clothes Show being held?

Closing date for the competition is 12 noon, Wednesday, November 11, 2015. Winners will be drawn at random and usual Champion competition rules apply. Editor's decision is final.

Tickets are limited to one pair per winner and valid for the Friday show only.

Tickets to the show are now on sale and available at clothesshow.com

Disability helpline to hold AGM next month

DISABILITY Advice West Lancs (DAWL), also known as West Lancs Disability Helpline – is holding its Annual General Meeting.

It will take place on Wednesday, November 18 at its office on the second floor of Whelmar House in Skelmersdale, starting at 10.30am.

The 1981 established Queen's Award–winning charity aims to provide high quality, confidential information, advice and support to disabled people and their carers in West Lancashire. It is hoped the information will enable people to make informed choices about how they wish to live their lives.

Examples of services provided include: information and advice about equipment, holidays, budgeting, leisure, mobility, community care, transport, tribunal representation, welfare benefits, form–filling and signposting.

The team deals with over 6,000 enquiries each year and generates well over a million pounds in welfare benefit income for clients. People can ring Freephone 0800 200 676 for more information.

Lifesaver Sophie earns her badges!

By Danielle Thompson

A PRIMARY school pupil has dazzled Blue Peter judges by winning not one but four badges!

Sophie Ennis, who attends Halsall St Cuthbert's CE school, earned herself a silver badge by saving her mum's life and three blue badges through a variety of creative challenges.

There are six colours of Blue Peter badges which are awarded for achievements ranging from environmental work to acts of extreme bravery.

A blue badge is awarded for sending in an interesting letter, poem, picture or story, or by appearing on the programme, while the silver badge is given to blue badge winners for a further achievement.

Sophie is now applying for the orange badge, which is given to viewers who have won or come runner–up in any of Blue Peter's many competitions.

The nine–year–old was hailed a lifesaver in December 2013, when, aged just eight, her quick thinking and calmness helped to save her mum's life.

The North West Ambulance Service presented her with a special Lifesavers Award after she rang an ambulance for her mum Gail when she began to cough violently and appeared to be choking.

Recognising the danger her mum was in, she also made sure that the paramedics could get in to the property quickly when they arrived.

She earned the blue badges through her creative work when she wrote about the life–cycle of a plant, drew a picture of the Blue Peter presenters and wrote a review of the programme, while she gained the silver badge for her outstanding bravery and quick–thinking when she saved her mum.

Sophie was also one of 25 individuals and groups from West Lancashire and Sefton recognised at the Your Heroes Awards in Southport in January 2015, winning the Young Hero award.

Youngsters get a taste of political life with mock council meeting

SCHOOLCHILDREN from Skelmersdale enjoyed taking part in mock meetings of the council to learn more about how West Lancashire Borough Council operates.

The events were planned as part of annual Local Democracy Week, which aims to raise young people's awareness of local government and the important role played by councils.

This year's main theme was 'Living together in multicultural societies; respect, dialogue, interaction.'

The Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Nikki Hennessy, welcomed groups of young people into the Council Chamber for a debate and a mock voting exercise. Members of the council were also in attendance.

Pupils from Hillside Primary School came in the morning and children from Lathom High School took part in an afternoon session.

The schools appointed a 'chief officer' to help run the mock meetings alongside the Mayor. Paris took on the 'chief officer' role for Hillside Primary School, and James took this post for Lathom High School.

The remaining pupils from both schools acted as "councillors" to give the children a taste of the debating and decision–making process in the Council Chamber.

After discussing each topic the children undertook a mock voting exercise.

Councillor Hennessy said: "I was very impressed with the enthusiasm shown by the children who really enjoyed their visit. I am very proud of the democratic system in our country, and events like this help to teach our young people about the democratic process so they can get involved when they are adults."

The first prototype of the Vivarail D–Train has been completed Code1085386

New rail stock prototype is revealed

Report By Danielle Thompson

THE FIRST prototype of the converted London Underground rolling stock – which could be in use on Sefton and West Lancs routes by 2016 – has been completed.

At the start of the year, the Champion launched a campaign to rid our railways of the much–hated, outdated Pacer trains.

The government announced in their 2014 Autumn Statement that Pacers were to be replaced by 'new and modern trains' – and rather than having new trains on the local routes it was proposed to use converted former London Underground carriages.

Earlier this year, Vivarail Ltd, a company formed in 2012 to produce a new type of rolling stock designed specifically for local rail services, launched their project converting former London Underground D78 rolling stock into D–trains, with the body shells turned into lightweight diesel–electric passenger trains, ready for use by the end of this year.

Bidders for the Northern franchises, which are going through their renewal process, are expected to put forward plans to replace some, but not all, of the Pacers with the converted stock, meaning that the new D–trains could be used on local routes.

A spokesperson for Vivarail Ltd said: "Re–using the bodyshell, which is corrosion–free and the bogies, which are less than 10 years old, makes sense economically and environmentally.

"But what matters to passengers and crew is how it runs, how it feels, how it looks and how it performs so they have brand new engines, driver cab, safety and electrical systems, flooring, lights, toilets, seats, and gangways.

"These are the parts that people will experience day–to–day. When passengers are inside the train it will feel not just brand new but high quality, with everything needed for all journeys."

The Northern Franchise contract is set to be awarded in late 2015, with the franchise starting on April 1 2016.

West Lancashire Small Business group to hold double election

By Danielle Thompson

BUSINESS owners in Ormskirk and Sefton are being urged to attend a meeting to elect two new committee positions in the Federation of Small Businesses.

The annual general meeting of the Federation of Small Businesses (FSB) Sefton and Ormskirk branch, and a dinner, is being held at the The Metro Hotel on Portland Street in Southport from 7pm on Tuesday 10 November.

Two key branch committee positions will be open for nomination from the floor and activists representing the Federation of Small Businesses will be elected.

FSB members will have the opportunity to elect the activists who will work on their behalf over the next year as second Vice Chairman and Treasurer.

Both members and non–members will be able to find out more about local and national FSB activities. In addition to receiving updates from branch Chair Sue Long and meeting the committee, attendees will have the opportunity to enjoy a three–course meal. Entertainment will be provided by local magician David Burgess.

The AGM is free to attend. The dinner will cost members £7 (£10 for non–members), payable on the night. Booking is essential by Friday, 6 November. Email secretary.seftonandormskirk@fsb.org.uk or call 01704 330872. When booking, attendees should confirm if they wish to attend both the AGM and dinner and provide any dietary requirements.

Row over flats' heater systems blazes on

By Henry James

Former county councillor Chris Cheetham Code NA

CLAYBROW and Holland Moor Tenants and Residents Association has responded angrily to the borough council's answer in The Champion to its complaints about the heating project on Carfield.

Association secretary Chris Cheetham had contacted the paper to say tenants in Carfield had not been given a choice to have individual boiler system fitted whereas those in Little Digmoor and Birkrig had.

He is not happy with the council's response in the last article and added: "They say this is down to the difference in cost of the work on Alderley and Carfield, but the exact reason for this difference seems to change almost every time we ask a question.

"It was stated by the council in the paper that the boilers (at Little Digmoor and Birkrig) needed 'significant modifications' in their response to our press release and yet in a letter to tenants on Carfield dated September 21, it said that on other estates 'the communal boilers were in need of replacement."

Mr Cheetham added: "Perhaps if the council's newest version of the explanation is to be credible they can also say what the 'significant modifications' were (at Little Digmoor and Alderley) and when they were implemented.

"If they do not respond to our request we will have to consider making a formal request through the Freedom of Information process.

"We would appreciate some straight talking from the council and not have their explanations change whenever we ask embarrassing questions."

A council spokesman responded: "The council is currently investing in upgrading heating systems and energy efficiency measures in its housing for the benefit of tenants, including those in Carfield, Alderley, Birkrig and other flats within the Borough.

The council has written to Mr Cheetham about his concerns, detailing the approach taken to upgrading communal heating systems.

"The main factor in deciding how the communal systems should be upgraded was how easy it would be to install new heat meters. These are needed for the council to comply with forthcoming EU directives which will require landlords to heat meter communal heating systems.

"In flats with older pipework, the council considered replacing communal systems with individual boilers and consulted tenants about these options. In places where heat meters could be installed more easily the council consulted tenants purely on that option.

"While it was initially considered that heat meters could be easily installed in Carfield, further investigation revealed that additional works would be required due the nature of the system. Further consultation would have delayed the works and resulted in delays and additional costs.

"The council recognises that changing heating systems can be a sensitive issue and has engaged and consulted with its tenants appropriately and provided the necessary reassurance and advice. We continue to support our tenants during the works and provide help with any redecoration that may be required."

Uni lecturer's book challenges stereotypes of older gay men

A HEALTH and social care lecturer at Edge Hill Uni has released a new book which challenges the stereotypical image of older gay men.

Dr Paul Simpson's 'Middle–Aged Gay Men, Ageing and Ageism: Over the Rainbow?' questions whether mid–life for gay men signals the start of a slide towards the rejection, exclusion and misery associated with the spectre of the 'lonely old queen.'

It offers a more nuanced view of gay ageing, using sociological tools to advance understanding beyond stereotypes.

Paul Simpson said: "Although we now know more about gay lives in an age of tolerance, very little is known about what it's like to grow older as a gay man.

"On the basis of in–depth interviews with 27 men and six months of observation research in Manchester's gay village, I discovered things that challenged stereotypes. The book looks at the richness and diversity of older gay men's lives – triumphs, tragedies and much in–between."

'Middle–Aged Gay Men, Ageing and Ageism: Over the Rainbow?' is published in hardback and e–book by Palgrave Macmillan.

The organising committee at Southport and West Lancs Sandgrounder CAMRA Beer Festival

Real ale fans flock to beer festival

ORGANISERS behind the sixteenth annual Sandgrounder Beer Festival said the event was attended by 'some of the best crowds yet' with enthusiasts flocking to the resort to try a host of real ales and drinks.

The Southport and West Lancashire branch of the Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) say they would like to thank all staffing volunteers, sponsors and visitors who helped them put together the popular show at the St John's Ambulance Hall across three days earlier this month.

A spokesperson for the Southport and West Lancashire CAMRA group said: "Everybody helped to make it a very successful beer festival and it was enjoyed by all, with many awards being made to local licensees and staff on Thursday.

"There were over 50 beers, ciders, perries and fruit wines and many of these went down very well!"

A special David Griffith Memorial Award was made to organiser Mike Perkins by the Branch Chairman Doug Macadam for long term dedicated voluntary services to the branch in many roles.

Another chapter at Cramford House

Like any great work of fiction, it takes a labour of love to craft the perfect story.
As Cramford House nears completion, this stunning development is looking quite the masterpiece.

Beautifully landscaped, private, feature gardens now surround these exquisite apartments, neatly framing the traditional architectural styling. The mature, green landscape makes for the ideal place to enjoy your own outdoor space, without any of the maintenance.

And there's no need to rely on imagination alone.
Helping to bring the story to life is our latest show apartments, The Shakespeare and The Hemmingway. These stylish, modern, two bedroom home includes all the usual Dorbcrest hallmarks that you would expect from such an established developer.

As well as enjoying a premium location, it's the space, high specification, luxury fittings and beautiful attention to detail that characterises these prestigious properties. But that's not the end of the story. With a range of layouts, lift access, and secure private parking, as well as a complementary interior design service, there's convenience, peace of mind and room to personalise to your own tastes too.

If you think living in one of the most sought after addresses comes at a price, you'd be wrong. Homes start at just £165,000 - and with Help to Buy, that comes down to just £132,000 - making Cramford House one of the must-see developments in the area!

Theatregoers set for close shave at Empire

WELSH National Opera will be visiting Liverpool Empire Theatre on Friday, November 13 and Saturday, November 14 to perform Sondheim's musical masterpiece, Sweeney Todd, as part of the launch of WNO's 70th birthday year.

This production promises a musical with all the emotional impact of opera and will be a rare opportunity to hear Sweeney Todd with the celebrated WNO Chorus and Orchestra.

The show is set in the late 1970s/early 1980s and provides a fresh take on the story with echoes of Thatcher's Britain.

A co–production between Welsh National Opera, Wales Millennium Centre and West Yorkshire Playhouse in association with Royal Exchange Theatre, Sweeney Todd will be directed by WYP artistic director James Brining and conducted by James Holmes in a staging adapted for WNO. This is the first time that WNO and Wales Millennium Centre have worked together as co–producers.

The cast will feature opera and musical theatre singers with German baritone David Arnsperger as Sweeney Todd and Scottish soprano Janis Kelly as Mrs Lovett.

Anthony will be sung by Jamie Muscato, with Soraya Mafi singing Johanna. Welsh tenor Aled Hall will sing Beadle Bamford and Charlotte Page will sing Beggar Woman. Also joining the cast are Steven Page as Judge Turpin, Paul Charles Clarke as Pirelli and George Ure as Tobias Ragg.

More information on Sweeney Todd and WNO's autumn 2015 season is available at wno.org.uk

Of Mice and Men among highlights of new season

VOLUNTEERS at Parbold Picture House have released their listings for the autumn and winter.

Blade Runner (Final Cut) is to be shown on Sunday, November 1 at 7pm. It is directed by Ridley Scott and stars Harrison Ford, Rutger Hauer, Sean Young. The screening will be of Ridley's Scott's restored and remastered flagship, science–fiction film. It is a detective thriller, meditation on humanity, and is a film–noir.

On Sunday, November 15 at 7pm Mr Holmes can be seen. It is directed by Bill Condon and stars Ian McKellen, and Laura Linney. The film explores the man behind the myth of Sherlock Holmes. The elderly detective legend recalls fragments of an old case, while struggling with his deteriorating mind.

A Broadway theatre production Of Mice and Men is being shown on Thursday, November 19 at 7pm. This presentation of Steinbeck's classic tale stars James Franco and Chris O'Dowd.

A Winter's Tale starring Kenneth Branagh and Judi Dench is being shown on Thursday, November 26 at 7.15pm.

Child 44 is being shown on Sunday, November 29 at 7pm. It is directed by Daniel Espinosa and stars: Tom Hardy, Gary Oldman, Vincent Cassel, Noomi Rapace, and Paddy Considine. It is set in Stalin's Russia where a former agent investigates a spate of child murders.

On Tuesday, December 8 there is the chance to see Jane Eyre at 7pm. This is the NT–Bristol Old Vic co–production of Charlotte Bronte's classic.

There is a chance to see Les Combattants on Sunday, December 13 at 7pm. This is a love story with a difference, told with wit and humour. A small–town man falls in love with an apocalyptic–minded woman and joins her at boot camp to learn survivalist skills.

Falstaff–Chimes at Midnight is to be shown at 7pm on Sunday, December 20. The film is directed by Orson Welles and the cast includes: John Gielgud, Jeanne Moreau, and Margaret Rutherford.

On Sunday, January 10 2016 people can see Amy, which is directed by Asif Kapadia. The film is from the director of Senna and it looks at the music of Amy Winehouse.

People can see the Clouds of Sils Maria on Sunday, January 24 at 7pm. It is directed by Oliver Assayas and stars Juliette Binoche, Kirsten Stewart, and Chloë Grace Moretz.

Les Liaisons Dangereuse can be seen on Thursday, January 28. 2016 at 7pm. In 1782, Choderlos de Laclos' novel of sex, intrigue and betrayal in pre–revolutionary France scandalised the world. Two hundred years later, Christopher Hampton's adaptation swept the board, winning the Olivier and Evening Standard Awards for Best Play. Josie Rourke's revival now marks the play's 30 year anniversary.

Folk partnership appearing at Live Music at Weekend

ONE of folk music's great partnerships, Nancy Kerr and James Fagan, will star in Douglas Music's Live Music at the Weekend series this Saturday (October 31) at 7.45 pm in the Arena Auditorium at Lancashire's Parbold Village Hall.

Nancy and James celebrate 21 years on the road. English fiddler Nancy Kerr came to prominence in her outstanding duo with Eliza Carthy before meeting Australian singer and multi–instrumentalist James Fagan in 1995. They released their first CD in 1997.

Nancy and James have played in just about every folk club and festival in Britain on a regular basis, and are well–loved for their joyful and powerful live performances of old and new music from Britain, Australia, and beyond. In that time, they have won three BBC Folk Awards, including the Best Duo award in 2003 and repeated that feat in 2011.

In December 2011 Gareth Malone chose their arrangement of Dance to Your Daddy as his Radio 4 inheritance track.

Their fifth album Twice Reflected Sun was praised in Froots magazine for its "delicious dancing poetry, intelligent and sparkling musicianship". Their traditional and contemporary songs are accompanied by James on Bouzouki and Nancy's fiddle playing. Proud of their acoustic roots this duo boasts a massive enveloping sound that audiences love.

Company presenting classic ballet

HANS Christian Andersen's Classic Fairy–tale Ballet The Snow Queen is to be staged at The Atkinson.

People are being invited to join Ballet Theatre UK in their re–telling of Hans Christian Andersen's classic fairy–tale ballet, The Snow Queen.

This production follows the story of Gerda and her quest to find her friend Kay, whom the Snow Queen has placed under an evil spell.

Ballet Theatre UK company of international dancers, costumes and stage sets combine with the aim of creating a spectacle, all set to a score.

Gerda's adventure takes her on a journey across the frozen north where she encounters a band of gypsy's, enchanted reindeer and a mysterious and reclusive Lapland woman. Gerda is told by the mysterious woman to continue travelling north, where she will find Kay and the Snow Queen's Palace of Ice. Only Gerda's love for Kay can release him from the spell and break the Snow Queen's curse of eternal winter!

Kidsfest takes place every year during October half term. It is a chance for The Atkinson to showcase its offer for families across the Museum, Galleries, Theatre, Library and free arts and craft activities.

The Snow Queen can be seen at The Atkinson tomorrow (Thursday, October 29) at 6pm.

Tickets are available online at theatkinson.co.uk or by calling the Box Office on 01704 533333.

Prepare to be scared

PERFORMERS from The Circus of Horrors show will be on Chapel Street, Southport this Saturday (October 31) at 12.30pm.

PRAYER

Novena

To be said every hour for nine consecutive hours and promise publication.

O God who has said "Ask and you shall receive, seek and you shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you", I know, I seek, I ask that my prayers be answered (Request).

O God who has said "All that you ask of the Father in My name will be granted" - I humbly and urgently request the Father in Thy name that my request be granted (Request).

O God who has said "Heaven and earth shall pass away but my word shall not". Through the intersession of Mary Thy Most Holy Mother, I feel confident that my prayers will be answered (Request).

M.S

HOLY SPIRIT

You, who make me see everything and show me the way to reach my ideals. You, who gave the Divine Gift to forgive and forget all that is done to me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank You for everything and affirm once more that I never want to be separated from You no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with You and my loved ones in their perpetual glory. To that end, and submitting to God's Holy Will, I ask You (mention your request).

This prayer must be said for three consecutive days. After the third day the request will be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Promise to publish the entire dialogue as a condition of having your request granted.

M.S

PRAYER

Novena

Dear heart of Jesus.
In the past I have asked you for favours.
This time I ask you for this special one.
(mention Favour)

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your heart where your Father sees it, then in his merciful eyes it will become your favour and not mine.

Amen

And this prayer must be said three times for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

M.S

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.
This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

M.S

BIRTHDAY MEMORIAMS

HANNAH NEWBY

31st October 1915
100th Birthday

We cannot celebrate but can remember, a loving mother with a heart so tender

We hope there's someone up there looking after you, treating you just like a queen the way we used to do.

We hope you're playing bingo and winning every house, and eating lots of KFC and tasty home-made Scouse

We hope you have a comfy chair and a telly big and wide, there's laughter all around you and the remote is at your side.

We hope today you'll celebrate with long-lost family, and sing your song that we still hear within our memory.

On your 100th birthday Mum we will miss you more than ever

Loving children Joseph, Ann & Ronnie (deceased) Doreen and Adrian, Pat and Reg, Sue and Keith. Grandchildren, great-grandchildren, great-great grandchildren Nieces and Nephews and all those who love and miss you 1144961

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

ATLAY Tony

8th September 2015

Marjorie, Tim and family would like to thank all who sent thoughtful cards, tributes, flowers and generous donations following the recent very sad and sudden death of our beloved Tony. Thank you to the many who supported us at his funeral. Appreciation to Graham Clegg Funeral Directors for his attention to detail and to the Reverend Judith Ball for her lovely service. 42782

IN MEMORIAM

TAYLOR Kelsey

28th October 2009

When we are in need of comfort we walk down memory lane, there we see you smiling, we talk with you again. And as we wander slowly back we seem to hear you say "Don't grieve, don't cry, my family, we'll meet again some day".

Love and miss you forever and always, your loving family

IN MEMORIAM

CALVERT KAREN

October 30th 2010

Only God knows how we miss you.
And this lonely feeling is real.
Lonely are our lives without you.
Life to us is not the same.
All the world would be like heaven.
If we could have you back again.

Always missed by ALL the family.

We love you so very much.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

PRIESTMAN ELSIE

Dorothy, David and family wish to express their sincere gratitude to everyone for the many kindnesses following the Promotion To Glory of Elsie on October 9th. Special thanks to Mr Lionel Milner for words of comfort and beautiful service along with the fellowship of Bethesda Chapel for all the support given along with all staff of Connell Court for their care. To Carl Howard and team at Howard's Funeral Directors for their caring and dignified approach and help, so much appreciated. Thanks for all the donations given for the Spinal Unit Mini-bus Fund, 6 Weld Road and Tim and Bryony Ashcroft, Missionary Workers in India (Stewardship) – cheques to Howard's Donation Account please. 1145164

IN MEMORIAM

Valerie Josephine Parker

14/05/1950 - 01/11/2013

Beloved wife of Bill and mother to William, Rachel and Melissa.

Always so caring, unselfish and kind,
Few on this earth your equal we'll find.

Sincere and true in all your ways,
Loving and faithful to the end of your days.

Loved by your friends and all whom you knew,
One in a million, that woman was you.

Two years have passed, our hearts always sore,
As time goes on we miss you more.

A loving wife and mother, considerate and kind,
What beautiful memories you left behind.

Today, tomorrow, our whole life through,
We shall always love and remember you.

Q has got a bit carried away

I'M THINKING of opening a sanctuary – perhaps on some remote Scottish island – for fellow film fanatics in the run–up to James Bond's next outing. I can't be the only film fanatic determined to avoid anything that might prematurely ruin Spectre.

It's been nigh on impossible to avoid finding out the plot details unless you've spent the last six months in a cave – something the film's creators haven't exactly helped by dripping trailer after trailer onto my Facebook feed every other night.

Don't worry – I'm not going to reveal which femme fatale he beds or what facial disfigurement the villain has, but you'll have to allow me one spoiler alert. Why is Daniel Craig tootling around in cars you and I can't actually buy?

Everyone knows great cars and Bond films go together. Sean Connery being told his Bentley's 'had its day' and then being introduced to a silver car with a few optional extras is one of cinema's greatest moments, and Roger Moore winding down the window of his aquatic Lotus and casually throwing out a fish is one of its funniest. Then there's the moment Timothy Dalton fights his way through the roof of a swerving army Land Rover in the opening moments of The Living Daylights.

All of these vehicles have one glorious thing in common – you can, even if you might need to be a millionaire in some cases, buy all these cars in real life. Yet you can't with Spectre's automotive stars.

For starters there's Bond's car, the closest you'll be able to get is next year's DB11. Close, but not exactly the MI6–spec the Bond fantasists who propel Aston's fortunes will be wishing for this Christmas.

It's the same story with the baddies' choice bit of kit – a Jaguar C–X75, which was mooted as an XJ220 successor at the Paris motor show five years ago. It wasn't a production car then and it still isn't now – and I reckon using one in Spectre is giving today's kids false hope.

I'm sure Spectre will be an absolute belter as far as movies go, but I hope the plot's a bit more grounded in reality than the cars are.

Skem made to pay for lack of forward strength

Halesowen 2
Skelmersdale 0

A LACK of forward strength cost Skem at least a point on this trip to the West Midlands, as they had more possession and more of the chances but still returned home without a point to show for a good performance.

The home side took the lead in the 14th minute when their goalkeeper Daniel Platt left his box to head clear a bouncing ball. The ball was then lifted down the right–wing to Keyon Reffell, who held off a challenge and played the ball low into the penalty area, where his strike partner Aaron Daniels cleverly turned and slammed the ball high into the net in the style of a forward predator.

Skelmersdale then gained the initiative and Kenny Strickland had one effort blocked then he volleyed the rebound only to find Platt diving to push the ball for a corner. Platt held tightly onto a Tom Ince free–kick and finally Phillips drilled in a shot that was only kept out by a deflection and Platt's quick reactions.

Halesowen started well after the interval and Martin Fearon saved from substitute Isaac Cooper, but then Skelmersdale returned to the offensive.

Alan Burton's shot was saved at the second attempt then Ince found the net but was given offside. In the 62nd and 64th minutes Louis Corrigan was very unlucky, initially the crossbar thwarting him before Platt made another superb a save from a particularly vicious effort.

Halesowen made it two on 71 minutes. A tidy exchange of passes on the right put Reece Hales on the run across the face of the eighteen yard line and in truth he wasn't closed down quickly enough, the result a shot across Fearon into the far corner. Skem continued to press and on 87 minutes a corner was played short to the Corrigan by Strickland who was given the ball back, he crossed and Rob McIntosh flicked a header beyond Platt into the corner of the goal.

Skem pressed in added time, but Halesowen hung on.

United host Hyde United on Saturday for an FA Trophy tie.

• A firework display will be held at Stormy Corner on November 5. There will be free fairground rides, stalls, burger bars and the club bar wil be open. Payment is at the gate. Adults £4 and children £2, infants free, plus a family ticket for £10 that allows 2 adults and 2 children entry. The gates open at 5pm and the display begins at 7.30pm.

Omatola debut goal helps Linnets extend unbeaten league run

Burscough 2
Ossett Albion 0

BURSCOUGH extended their unbeaten league run to seven games with a 2–0 victory at home to Ossett Albion.

The in–form Linnets climb up to seventh in the table after last weekend's win and are now only four points off a play–off position.

The goals against Albion were scored by striker Will Jones and teenager Tolani Omotola, who has making his debut after being signed on a month–long loan from Tranmere Rovers.

Omotola was first called up to a Tranmere match day squad for their League Two game at Prenton Park against Bury last May – their final match of a 94–year tenure in the Football League.

Burscough have been busy in the transfer window recently, with Billy Smart also coming into the squad after making a switch from North West Counties League Premier Division side Bootle.

The move comes after the Linnets placed a seven day notice on Smart, who has been exceptional for Bootle in recent seasons.

Burscough face Colwyn Bay at home in the FA Trophy on Saturday, October 31. Kick off 3pm.
